

Corporate Membership Program

The Canadian Owners and Pilots Association's corporate membership program is available to any company interested in supporting COPA's efforts to solve the issues facing the aviation community, to promote air safety through education, and to lower the cost of flying

COPA corporate members are listed in the association's monthly magazine, COPA Flight, along with a short description of their activities.

COPA member companies are welcome to designate an individual for a regular personal membership to the association. This is an indirect method of providing the company with the regular voting and membership privileges.

Corporate members of COPA are entitled to a 10 percent discount on advertising in the association's publication and free preferred advertisement placement.

Member companies of the association are authorized to display the COPA Corporate logo on their advertising and promotional material.

COPA does not provide special editorial privileges for corporate members. The association seeks news from all companies involved in aviation for coverage in its publications.

COPA's general membership mailing list is not available to corporate members or anyone else, according to association policy. Monthly contact with members is provided through advertising and insertions in COPA's publications.
